

Australia's Services Future

Australia's service sector is positioned to underpin future job growth by increasing Australia's engagement in international trade.

The service sector is the foundation for the Aus economy •

87% of Australian workforce employed in the service sector

Service sector contributes almost three quarters of Australian GDP 75%

Asia's services appetite

The services sector is on track to become Australia's number one exporter to Asia by 2030, and will support number one exporter to Asia by 2030, and will support more jobs than all other exports combined.

Asia is the growth engine of the global economy.

1 million jobs by 2030

$ 1 6 3

billion

$ 6 9

billion

2013 service export

2030 projected service export

Meeting the demand

Increasing engagement in international trade - expanding exports of services, enhancing the competitiveness of goods exporters, and expanding the offshore operations of Australian services businesses.

Open market place

Liberalise international trade

Promote offshore investment

Re-assess export measurement

Develop Asia capable workforce

BlueNotes

Connecting News and Insights